From Chairman John Lowry:

The monthly publication from the Wisconsin Towns Association has some interesting facts on transportation funding in Wisconsin. As you might recall our Board/Finance Committee, after many meetings and homework, presented Town Electors with a request for a levy override. At the heart of that request was the realization that Town infrastructure, primarily roads, had been negatively affected by the State imposed levy cap. The electors responded and we have been able to begin the process of catching up on road maintenance while judiciously controlling the budget.

According to the publication the result of the 2007-09 recession saw municipalities shift spending from road maintenance to police and fire services. Research found that roads rated excellent/very good declined to 31% from 37% in by 2015. Those rated fair/worse rose from 29% to 32%. That decline was greatest in the State's largest municipalities. According to the DOT the average cost per mile to extend and/or resurface a road structural life is in excess of $600,000.

The establishment of a Regional Learning Center/Makers Space by NWTC in the former Baylake building in Sister Bay continues to move ahead. Ownership of the building has transferred to NWTC with a projected opening of the Center scheduled for spring. A major thank you to residents David and Karen Studebaker, Mary Pat Carlson, Supervisor Nancy Goss, Administrator Kalms and Clerk/Treasurer Janet Johnson for their time and effort put forth on the project on behalf of the Town. We had initially hoped to have the facility located in Liberty Grove but understood how important it was to be located in Northern Door. Talks with NWTC officials very early indicated how they understood our needs/concerns about retaining and attracting young people to Northern Door, improving the economic well-being and offering educational choices to Northern Door. Under the leadership of Dean Stewart and his staff from NWTC the project really gathered steam and direction.
