COVID-19 TESTING & EMPLOYEES

WHAT DO I DO IF AN EMPLOYEE IS SICK?

If an employee is ill...

with fever, cough, shortness of breath, or other symptoms of illness:

Sick employees should stay home, or be sent home, and contact their healthcare provider

Individuals who have symptoms should be tested for COVID-19

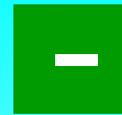

Call the DCMC COVID Screening Hotline at 920-746-3700

WHAT IF AN EMPLOYEE IS TESTED FOR COVID-19?

Waiting for results

If an employee is waiting for results, they need to isolate at home and not have contact with anyone until the results are complete.

Negative COVID-19 result

Public Health suggests that employees should not return to work until at least for 24 hours without symptoms

POSITIVE COVID-19 result

Employee will be contacted by Public Health. Employee will need to stay isolated at home for a minimum of 10 days after symptoms started and have 3 days without fever and improvement in symptoms

WHAT IF AN EMPLOYEE IS A CLOSE CONTACT OF A CONFIRMED CASE?

If an individual had close contact with a confirmed COVID-19 case

The exposed individual will need to stay home and quarantine for 14 days from the last time they had close contact with the confirmed case.

Even if the exposed individual is tested and it's negative, they will still need to finish the 14 day quarantine

Will public health contact our business?

Public Health will contact employers when there is a risk that employees or others were exposed and we need the cooperation of the employer to locate those individuals.

YOUR BUSINESS CAN

MAKE A DIFFERENCE IN OUR COMMUNITY

by continuing to promote hand washing, social distancing, and allowing and encouraging sick individuals to stay home.
